

A Case of Misery.

To the Editor of "The Tribune":
Knowing that your heart is ever awake to sympathy with the afflicted, I take the liberty to acquaint you with the situation of a widow and her five orphan children—the mother confined to her room by illness, in a wretched up-stairs room, No. 8 Hester St.—the husband and father has slept quietly in the grave three years, while mother has slept quieted unless for her little ones until health and sound life was gained, if one may judge by the deep hoarse voice, the frequent coughs and sounding fits, the fits of convulsions, the fits of delirium, the fits of fits; and thus for they have sustained many, but not in comfort a boy of nine, a girl of seven, and two sweet twins of two and a half years, who never saw a father's face, and whom the poor mother has, in all-sided political, and, now, physical misery, been a widow to—her only brother, her only son, her only child, who took part in the affair, have since arrived here with the intention of settling their quarrel on the Indiana shore. COMMERCIAL AND MONEY MATTERS.

For sale of Stocks at the Exchange, see Last Page.

WEDNESDAY P.M.

Stocks continued to decline to day—HARLEM RAILROAD; Norwich and Worcester Railroad; Boston and Long Island Railroads; Reading Bonds; and Pennsylvania, Erie and Morris Canal Co.; Illinois Bonds, Canton Co. and Reading Railroad shares closed at yesterday's prices.

In Foreign Exchange there is very little business done. We quote on London at 10:45 A.M.; Paris, 9:30 A.M.; Amsterdam 9:30; Hamburg 3:45; Berlin 5:45; Brussels 7:45.

The Long Island Bank has declared a dividend of 5 per cent, payable on the 2d February.

The Greenwich Insurance Co. has declared a dividend of 5 per cent, payable on the 2d February.

The Union and Schenectady Railroad Co. has declared a dividend of $4 per share, payable on the 1st February.

The Albany Argus states that by the first of May the track of the Hudson River Railroad will be ready with T rail from Binghamton to New Milford, a distance of 25 miles, and by midsummer or at least during the present year, through the entire route.

A new counterfeiter bank note has made its appearance, for which stockholders and others will keep a watch lookout. It purports to be a $5 bill upon the Western Bank of Philadelphia, letter A, and dated 1845. The impression appears to be a genuine one of some bank, not the Western, but the name of the bank and the word "Philadelphia" have evidently been inserted. The words Western Bank will be seen by close examination, are not exactly in a straight line as they should be, and the space between the line which contains these words and the succeeding line is unusually wide. The vignette is a figure of a woman sitting upon some talents of goods, and a ship at sea. The head of Washington is upon the left side, and Lafayette upon the right.

We are indebted to a friend for the following table of receipts at the Port of New York for the years 1844 and 1845 of Fleets, Freight and Provisions, compiled chiefly from our own files.
